Recreational Camps

Our Presenter, Emily Whittaker-Smith, obtained a Bachelor of Science in Public Health and a Master of Public Health in Health Policy & Management in an accelerated 4+1 program at the University of Massachusetts Amherst. Since graduating, she has gained a vast knowledge of the public health field, collaborating with over 50 communities in Massachusetts at the local and state levels. Emily is the Public Health Training Manager for the Central Massachusetts Public Health Training Hub, where she brings extensive expertise in inspection services, regulatory compliance, and public health education. Emily is an active member of the OLRH Recreational Camps group, which is currently assisting with the creation of the upcoming recreational camp training program. Emily will share her experiences, best practices, and most current inspectional compliance procedures with our group of attendees to provide us with an overview of a public health competency that possesses various moving parts. Baystate will bet its last thermometer that your summer will roll in much more smoothly after hearing some new strategies you can utilize during your next camp inspection.

WHAT WILL BE DISCUSSED?

-  Evaluating emergency preparedness plans
-  Understanding requirements amongst different camps
-  Information that is required to be in a camp program binder
-  Review of the staff qualifications and training requirements
-  Application of 105 CMR 430.000 for camp reviews & inspections
